What is the Purpose of Form I-129F?

You may use this petition to classify either:

1). Your alien fiancé(e) as a K-1 nonimmigrant to enter the United States and marry you, and then apply for adjustment of status to lawful permanent resident,

2). Or your alien spouse as a K-3 nonimmigrant to enter the United States, await the availability of an immigrant visa, and pursue adjustment of status to lawful permanent resident.

Note: It is possible for a child (who is unmarried and under 21 years of age) of a K-1 or K-3 nonimmigrant to apply for a nonimmigrant visa in order to accompany or follow their K-1 or K-3 parent, and there is no need to file a separate petition to classify the child as a K nonimmigrant. Its worth mentioning that children of K-1s are considered K-2 nonimmigrants, and children of K-3s are classified as K-4 nonimmigrants.

NOTE: A K-4 nonimmigrant can only be eligible to apply for adjustment of status to lawful permanent resident if they are under 18 years of age when you and the K-3 parent get married, and you file Form I-130, Petition for Alien Relative, on the K-4's behalf before they reach 21 years of age.

If you are a U.S. citizen and meet the following requirements, you are eligible to file Form I-129F:

You and your fiancé(s):

A. Have the legal capacity to marry and intend to do so within 90 days of your fiancé(e)s admission to the United States;

B. Have met each other in person at least once within the two years immediately before you filed this petition, unless you can demonstrate that:

(1) If you can establish that the requirement to meet your fiancé(e) in person would be in violation of strict and well-established customs in your fiancé(e)s foreign culture or social practice, and that you have fulfilled or will fulfill all other aspects of the traditional arrangement according to the custom or practice, you may be exempt from this requirement.

(2) If you can show that the requirement to meet your fiancé(e) in person would cause you extreme hardship, you may be exempt from this requirement.

(3) Alternatively, you can file Form I-129F on behalf of your spouse if you have filed or are in the process of filing Form I-130 for your spouse and wish to have them enter the United States as a nonimmigrant while awaiting the immediate availability of an immigrant visa and the ability to file for adjustment of status.

Please note that if you have children with your beneficiary, they may have acquired U.S. citizenship through you, and you can visit the U.S. Department of State (DOS) website at <http://travel.state.gov> for more information.

General Instructions

The USCIS offers forms for free through their website, which can be viewed, printed, or filled out using the latest version of Adobe Reader. This software can be downloaded for free from <http://get.adobe.com/reader/>. If you do not have internet access, you can contact the USCIS Contact Center at 1-800-375-5283 and request that they mail a form to you. For TTY (deaf or hard of hearing), please call 1-800-767-1833.

Signature

To ensure that your petition is properly filed, each signature on the petition must be handwritten, and USCIS will not accept a stamped or typewritten name in place of a signature. If you are under the age of 14, a parent or legal guardian can sign the petition on your behalf. In the case of a mentally incompetent person, a legal guardian may also sign.

Filing Fee

Each petition must be accompanied by the appropriate filing fee, which can be found in the "What Is the Filing Fee" section of these instructions.

Biometric Services Fee

Regarding the Biometric Services Fee, there is no need to include a payment at the time of submitting your petition to USCIS. If you are later notified that you must submit biometrics, you will receive a biometric services appointment notice, which will include instructions on how to pay the additional fee. If you file your petition with an agency other than USCIS, please check with that agency to determine if and when you must submit a biometric services fee.

Evidence

When filing, it is important to submit all necessary evidence and supporting documentation listed in the "What Evidence Must You Submit" section of these instructions.

Biometric Services Appointment.

USCIS may require you to provide fingerprints, photograph, and/or signature to verify your identity, obtain additional information, and conduct background and security checks at any time, including before making a decision on your application, petition, or request. This may include a check of criminal history records maintained by the FBI. After USCIS receives your petition and ensures that it is complete, you will be notified in writing if you need to attend a biometric services appointment. If an appointment is necessary, the notice will provide you with the location of your local or designated USCIS Application Support Center (ASC), as well as the date and time of your appointment. If you are currently overseas, the notice will instruct you to contact a U.S. Embassy, U.S. Consulate, or USCIS office outside the United States to schedule an appointment.

What You Should Know

During your biometric services appointment, if required, you will be asked to sign an oath reaffirming the following:

- 1). You provided or authorized all information in the petition;
- 2). You reviewed and understood all of the information contained in, and submitted with, your petition; and
- 3). All of the information provided was complete, true, and correct at the time of filing.

It is important to attend the biometric services appointment as scheduled. Failure to do so may result in the denial of your petition by USCIS.

Copies. When submitting documents, it is important to provide clear and legible photocopies of the requested items, unless the Instructions state otherwise and require an original document. During processing of your application, petition, or request, USCIS may request an original document from you. If such a request is made, the original document will be returned to you once USCIS no longer needs it.

NOTE: If you submit an original document when it is not required or requested by USCIS, your original documents may be immediately destroyed upon receipt.

Translations. When submitting a document that contains information in a foreign language, you must also provide a full English translation. The translator responsible for the translation must sign a certification indicating that the English language translation is complete and accurate, and that they are qualified to translate from the foreign language into English. The certification should include the date, the translator's signature and printed name, and may include the translator's contact information.

Types of Waivers

Item Number 5.a. is the General Waiver which applies if you have never been convicted of a violent criminal offense against a person or persons.

To get a waiver, you must provide evidence to demonstrate that extraordinary circumstances exist. You must provide evidence explaining the reasons for your multiple filings, along with evidence of extraordinary circumstances. To qualify for a mandatory waiver, you must provide evidence explaining your multiple filings and supporting your eligibility.

USCIS cannot approve your petition unless a waiver of the multiple-filing limitation is granted. It is important to provide all necessary evidence and documentation to support your request for a waiver, including any evidence of abuse or battery if applicable. This may include police reports, court records, news articles, and trial transcripts, as well as any other relevant evidence that supports your request for a waiver. Be sure to follow all instructions and guidelines provided by USCIS to ensure that your petition is processed efficiently and accurately.

What are the Requirements of the International Marriage Broker Regulation Act?

It is recommended that you save or print a copy of your petition for future reference and record-keeping purposes. Before your biometric services appointment at a USCIS ASC, it is suggested that you review your copy of the completed petition. USCIS will only permit you to complete the petition process during your appointment if you can confirm under penalty of perjury that all the information provided in your petition is complete, true, and accurate. If you are unable to make this confirmation in good faith during your appointment, USCIS will require you to reschedule for another appointment.

According to the International Marriage Broker Regulation Act (IMBRA), U.S. citizens who file a Form I-129F must disclose any permanent protection or restraining order related to crimes specified in Part 3. of these instructions, as well as any convictions for those crimes. Additionally, USCIS must keep a database to track multiple Form I-129Fs filed by the same petitioner, and will notify the petitioner upon approval of a second Form I-129F and entering their information into the database. All subsequent Form I-129Fs filed by the petitioner will be entered into the database. If a petitioner has had two Form I-129Fs approved and files another within 10 years of the first, USCIS will notify both the petitioner and beneficiary of the number of previously approved petitions listed in the database.

IMBRA also has provisions for international marriage brokers (IMBs) who are required to conduct background checks on their U.S. clients and disclose the results of these checks to foreign national clients before obtaining their consent to disclose their personal contact information to a U.S. client. NOTE: The terms "international marriage broker" and "IMB" refer to any legal entity, whether or not organized under U.S. law, that charges fees for providing dating, matrimonial or matchmaking services, or social referrals between U.S. citizens/lawful permanent residents and foreign national clients by facilitating communication or providing personal contact information.

The term is not used to refer to:

1. Traditional matchmaking organizations of a cultural or religious nature that operate on a non-profit basis and in compliance with the laws of the countries in which they operate, including the laws of the United States; or
2. Entities that provide dating services, but only if:
 - A. Their principal business does not provide international dating services between U.S. citizens or lawful permanent residents and foreign nationals; and
 - B. They charge comparable rates and offer comparable services to all individuals served regardless of gender or country of citizenship or nationality.

What Evidence Must You Submit?

If you do not submit all the evidence requested in these Instructions along with your petition, USCIS may reject or deny it due to failure to comply with 8 CFR part 103.2(b)(1) and these Instructions. To support your petition, you must provide the primary evidence listed below. In the event that a primary evidence document is not available, you must obtain a statement from the appropriate civil authority certifying its unavailability.

In case primary evidence is not available, you are required to submit secondary evidence like church or school records, U.S. census records, or baptismal certificates to support your claim. If you are unable to provide secondary evidence, you may submit two or more sworn affidavits from individuals who were living at the time of the event, have direct personal knowledge of the event, and are not parties to your petition.

For more information regarding the required documentation, please visit the USCIS website at www.uscis.gov/I-129F or refer to 8 CFR 214.2(k) regulations governing petitions for nonimmigrant alien fiancé(e)s and spouses.

3. Please provide evidence of your U.S. citizenship, which may include any of the following:

- A. A copy of your birth certificate issued by a U.S. civil authority;
- B. A copy of your original Certificate of Naturalization;
- C. A copy of your original Certificate of Citizenship;
- D. A copy of your Form FS-240, Report of Birth Abroad of a Citizen of the United States; E. A copy of your valid, unexpired U.S. passport or passport card issued with a validity period of at least five years; or
- F. A statement executed by a U.S. consular officer certifying that you are a U.S. citizen and the bearer of a currently valid U.S. passport.

4. Proof of Ending Prior Marriages. In case you or your beneficiary have been previously married, provide proof of legal termination of all previous marriages. This evidence can be in the form of a divorce decree, annulment, or death certificate issued by a civil authority.

5. Photographs. You are required to include a passport-style photograph of yourself and the beneficiary in color, which should be taken no earlier than 30 days prior to filing the petition. The photos must have a white or off-white background, be printed on glossy thin paper, and remain unmounted and unaltered.

The photographs should be in a color passport-style and measure 2 by 2 inches. They must exhibit a full face, frontal view against a white to off-white background. The head height must be between 1 to 1 3/8 inches from the top of hair to the bottom of the chin, and the eye height must be between 1 1/8 to 1 3/8 inches from the bottom of the photo. Unless required by your religious denomination, your head must be uncovered. Lightly print your name and A-Number (if any) on the back of the photo using a pencil or felt pen.

6. Evidence of Legal Name Change. In the event that either you or your beneficiary use a name different from the one demonstrated on the evidence provided in support of your petition, you must provide copies of legal documents such as a marriage certificate, adoption decree, or court order that confirm the legal name change.

7. Form I-94 Arrival-Departure Record. If the U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) or USCIS has issued a Form I-94, Arrival-Departure Record, to your beneficiary, please provide the Form I-94 number and the date on which your beneficiary's authorized period of stay expires or expired (as indicated on Form I-94). Note that the Form I-94 number is also known as the Departure Number on some versions of Form I-94.

Note that if your beneficiary entered the United States after April 30, 2013, and was admitted by CBP at an airport or seaport, they may have received an electronic Form I-94 instead of a paper version. To acquire a paper version of an electronic Form I-94, you may go to the CBP website at www.cbp.gov/i94. There is no fee for this service. Some travelers admitted to the United States at a land border, airport, or seaport, after April 30, 2013, with a passport or travel document, who were given a paper Form I-94 by CBP, may also be able to obtain a replacement Form I-94 from the CBP website for free. However, if the Form I-94 cannot be acquired from the CBP website, it can be obtained by submitting Form I-102, Application for Replacement/Initial Nonimmigrant Arrival-Departure Record, to USCIS, but USCIS charges a fee for this service.

Passport and Travel Document Numbers. Even if the passport or travel document has expired, if your beneficiary traveled to the United States using a passport or travel document, please provide the passport or travel document information in the designated section of the petition.

8. Evidence Required for Petitions to Classify a Fiancé(e) as a K-1 Nonimmigrant
Apart from the evidence stated earlier, you must also provide evidence that:

A. A. You Intend to Get Married Within 90 Days of Entry. You must provide proof that you and your fiancé(e) plan to get married within 90 days of your fiancé(e)s entry as a K-1 nonimmigrant. Evidence of your intention to marry could include signed statements of intent to marry from both you and your fiancé(e) or any other proof that establishes, by a preponderance of the evidence, your mutual intention.

Proof of In-Person Meeting. You must provide evidence that you and your fiancé(e) met in person during the two-year period immediately before filing this petition. Evidence of this meeting could include a written statement from you and/or your fiancé(e) detailing the circumstances of your meeting, copies of airline tickets, passport pages, or any other supporting documents. If you believe you are eligible for an exception to the in-person meeting requirement, provide evidence to support your claim.

In case you claim that the in-person meeting requirement would cause extreme hardship to you, provide evidence to support your claim.

If you assert that the in-person meeting requirement would breach strict and long-standing customs of your fiancé(e)s foreign culture or social practice, present proof that all aspects of the traditional arrangements have been or will be satisfied in accordance with the custom or practice.

9. Evidence Required for Petitions to Classify a Spouse as a K-3 Nonimmigrant In addition to the evidence stated in Items 1 to 5 above, you must provide:

A. Form I-130. Proof that you have filed Form I-130 on behalf of your beneficiary; and

B. Marriage Certificate. You must provide a marriage certificate, issued by the appropriate civil authority, demonstrating your valid marriage to the beneficiary. NOTE: You are not required to submit Form I-130 on behalf of a K-3 beneficiary's child to obtain a K-4 visa. However, a K-4 nonimmigrant can only apply for lawful permanent resident status if they are under 18 years old when you and the K-3 parent get married, and you file a Form I-130 petition on behalf of the K-4 before they reach the age of 21.
